Don Dismuke

Tax Partner

Dixon Hughes Goodman

Don Dismuke is a tax partner in Dixon Hughes Goodman's Atlanta office. He possesses extensive experience in corporate taxation, merger and acquisition transaction planning, and international taxation. He primarily focuses on advising on complex tax issues for publicly traded companies, large privately held companies, and fast-growing portfolio companies held by private equity firms. He also has significant experience with companies operating internationally and has proficiency in cross-border tax provision analysis.

Prior to joining Dixon Hughes Goodman, Dismuke served as tax managing partner at the Detroit office of a national accounting firm in corporate and international tax services. Previously, Dismuke worked as a director of the U.S. tax practice for the Paris and Zurich offices of a Big Four accounting firm where he advised large foreign-based multinational companies on international expansion, tax structuring, and structured finance.

Dismuke earned a master of taxation from Grand Valley State University and a B.S. in accounting from Western Michigan University.
